Key Terms

Record Date—Shareholders must own shares on the record date to be eligible to receive a distribution.

Ex-Dividend Date—Each fund's share price (net asset value) is reduced by the amount of the per-share distribution on this date.

Reinvestment Date—Distribution amounts are reinvested in fund shares on this date for shareholders who elect this option.

Payable Date—Distribution amounts are mailed by check on this date to shareholders of record who receive distributions in cash.

Rules for Monthly & Quarterly (not Daily Accrual Funds)

Ex-Dividend Date = Record Date + 1 Trading day

Reinvestment Date = Ex-Dividend Date

Payable Date = Reinvestment Date (or Ex-Dividend Date) + 1 Trading day

Rules for Daily Accrual Funds

When does a shareholder start accruing on a purchase? Settlement date

When does a shareholder stop accruing on a redemption? Settlement date

What is the payment frequency? Monthly

How is the weekend or holiday accrual calculated? The last business prior to a weekend or holiday is a bulk rate that includes Saturday and Sunday and/or any applicable holidays. If the month-end occurs over a weekend, the dividend is split across prior and next business day.

When does the fund pay dividends? Reinvested dividends are paid on last business day of month and cash dividends are paid on first business day of following month.
